

SCRIPTORIUM HALL

VERBIS • FIDELIBUS • SACRIS • FIDELIBUS • VERBIS

SEMINAR WITH WRITING TUTORIAL vs SEMINAR ONLY

	SEMINAR WITH WRITING TUTORIAL	SEMINAR ONLY
Assignments	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Attend class meetings with minimal absences</li> <li>Complete all assignments (daily-work/commonplacing and major written assignments) with satisfactory marks and above</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Attend class meetings with minimal absences</li> <li>Complete all daily-work/commonplacing</li> </ul>
Feedback on writing	Comments are given at each stage of the writing process	No major written work is required, so no comments are provided
Defense Day	Required participation in both fall and spring	Student does not participate in Defense Day
Scriptorium Credit	One full Scriptorium credit upon successful completion	One half Scriptorium credit upon successful completion
Diploma Program	Course does count toward Diploma Program	Course does not count toward Diploma Program
Dual-Credit	Student is eligible for dual-credit	Student is not eligible for dual-credit
Academic Prizes	Student is eligible for all Academic Prizes	Student is not eligible for the Lewis or Michelangelo Prizes
Graduation	Student formally graduates from Scriptorium	Student does not formally graduate from Scriptorium

***Parents can award any credit they deem appropriate; however, in my records, the student will only have earned one-half credit through Scriptorium.

Parents with students taking the seminar only who desire to have their students complete written work or projects outside of the readings and daily-work assigned for participation in Scriptorium class meetings are most welcome to do so. For example, these could include book reports, plays, National History Day projects, field trips, or research papers.